with Dayle Lauren, RPN, ADs, TTRP/QTTP, CHMC

SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 2023

8:15am – 4:00pm PT

Dayle Lauren, RPN, ADs, TTRP/QTTP, CHMC

Dayle Lauren is a Registered Psychiatric Nurse, energy worker, Therapeutic Touch® Recognized Practitioner, and Credentialed Trauma Responsive Practitioner. She has been practicing Therapeutic Touch since 2015.

Description: This presentation takes an in-depth and informed look at how Trauma imprints can not only show up in the physical body but how they can show up in the energetic field, with an emphasis on the connection between the physiological processes of trauma, the frequencies of trauma, the Chakra system, and the auric field. Learn how research is uncovering trauma as the foundation of all dis-ease and illnesses and how TT practitioners can access the imprints in the field to further inform their practice. By becoming Trauma sensitive, TT practitioners are in a better position to fully embrace where the healing partners are in their journey and gain more insight into their energetic needs. This presentation is experiential, allowing for the exploration of the information through interactive engagement.
